Witness Statement 1:

We all believe you should always give back and help other people if you can. We all love helping the children. The girls love picking out underwear, baby blankets and dresses. I have my youngest granddaughter help pick out items and explain to her how these little children need our help. She now likes to pick out items for the children. It is hard for her to understand why little children wouldn't even have underwear. We all understand we are blessed for what we have. It makes us feel good that we are helping as much as we can.
